BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Harry Edgar Tweedy was born in Brookville, Pennsylvania in 1858. He attended Franklin College in Ohio and was ordained on April 7, 1909, in the Congregational Church in Wallace, Nebraska. He spent the rest of his life ministering to the needs of congregations throughout Nebraska, serving a total of seven churches before his retirement to Meron, Indiana, where he died in 1941. For more information on Tweedy, see the accession file.

This volume was donated to the Lancaster Theological Seminary Library in 1975 by Tweedy's daughter-in-law Shirley Greene. It was transferred from the archives of the Evangelical and Reformed Historical Society in December 1992.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The volume contains Harry Tweedy's personal records of baptisms, weddings, deaths and funerals, members received, and various miscellaneous notes, including the minutes of his ordination in 1909. The records include notations from each parish he served, spanning the years 1909-1939. One loose sheet of baptisms from 1928 has been left in the volume where it was found.
